Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

The Lord continually calls us—do we have ears to hear?

Samuel does not recognize God’s voice, but he is alert and obedient, listening and ready for action. We hear that he ran when he called, and another time he rose. Eli gives Samuel the correct response: Speak, Lord, for your servant is listening. We live in a world of noise and distraction. Are we ready to answer? Can we even hear?

Representative for the week of January 14, 2018:

Kitty Carey @ 610-522-9641

Dear Parishioners,

What a beautiful Christmas Season was celebrated by all of us. I know its hard to move forward, to take down the decorations, and return to what is called the ordinary time. However, we take with us all the memories, but especially the promise of Christmas, and realize God's gift of Jesus to the world knows no ending. We thank all of you for the time you gave to our parish, especially through our liturgies by your involvement as lectors, Eucharistic Ministers, servers, ushers, choir, cantors, sacristans, and musicians. Also, those involved in cleaning and decorating our church. They all provided a beautiful Christmas gift to our parish family.

Lastly there was never a time that we were absent from Christmas cookies and many other treats. On behalf of our rectory, I thank all of you.

We have begun our change in the Mass schedule and many are pleased with it. At the same time, I need to apologize that we should have done better in communicating to you this change. For those who were caught by surprise last Sunday, I am sorry if we failed you, and hope we can all learn from this and correct our mistakes.

They say time and tide waits for no one, so let us move forward for we have no choice. Even though winter has begun, let us realize the days are getting longer. May the warmth of God's love in Jesus, strengthen all of us in our journey to heaven. And as the Wise men returned safely home through the guidance of the angels, may all of us also return to our home in heaven safely by the guidance of the angels.

Praise and love in this Year of Grace,

Fr. Slobogin
