Scripture Reflection

Luke 6:17, 20-26

Jesus stood before a great crowd consisting of people from several different regions. He announced that the poor, the hungry, the weeping, and the persecuted are blessed because their reward in heaven will be great. Conversely, He pronounced a “woe” upon those who are rich, filled, laughing, and spoken well of because their rewards have already been received and because their lots in life will change and/or be reversed.

What does today’s gospel reading teach me about God’s values versus the world’s values?

Why were the prophets treated so poorly, as Jesus notes? After all, didn’t they proclaim God’s Word?

If I were to lose things that I value, would I still consider myself to be blessed? Why or why not?

Message of his Holiness Pope Francis for the celebration of
 The 52nd World Day of Peace
 1 January 2019

Good politics is at the service of peace.

“Peace be to this house!”

In sending his disciples forth on mission, Jesus told them: “Whatever house you enter, first say, ‘Peace be to this house!’ And if a son of peace is there, your peace shall rest upon him; but if not, it shall return to you” (Luke 10: 5 - 6).

Bringing peace is central to the mission of Christ’s disciples. That peace is offered to all those men and women who long for peace amid the tragedies and violence that mark human history. The “house” of which Jesus speaks is every family, community, country and continent, in all their diversity and history. It is first and foremost each individual person, without distinction or discrimination. But it is also our “common home”: the world in which God has placed us and which we are called to care for and cultivate.

So let this be my greeting at the beginning of the New Year: “Peace be to this house!”

The challenge of good politics

Peace is like the hope which the poet Charles Péguy celebrated. It is like a delicate flower struggling to blossom on the stony ground of violence. We know that the thirst for power at any price leads to abuses and injustice. Politics is an essential means of building human community and institutions, but when political life is not seen as a form of service to society as a whole, it can become a means of oppression, marginalization and even destruction.

Jesus tells us that, “if anyone would be first, he must be last of all and servant of all” (Mark 9: 35). In the words of Pope Paul VI, “to take politics seriously at its different levels - local, regional, national and worldwide - is to affirm the duty of each individual to acknowledge the reality and value of the freedom offered him to work at one and the same time for the good of the city, the nation and all mankind.”

Political office and political responsibility thus constantly challenge those called to the service of their country to make every effort to protect those who live there and to create the conditions for a worthy and just future. If exercised with basic respect for the life, freedom and dignity of persons, political life can indeed become an outstanding form of charity.

A Stewardship Way of Life

*Blessed are you when people hate you,...exclude and insult you, and denounce your name...on account of the Son of Man.
 - Luke 6:22*

All of us have been in situations when someone has made a negative comment or joke about God or our Catholic faith. How did you respond? Did you stay silent or pretend to go along with the crowd because you didn't want to cause waves and then, later, you felt bad? Know that God is with you all the time, the Holy Spirit will put the right words in your mouth. Pray for the strength and courage to proclaim our faith to others, especially during uncomfortable situations.

Give Thanks and Remember

Our Fair Trade Coffee House was a great success! A special thanks goes out to all of our Youth Group Volunteers who helped make the event a great success, as well as our performers: Danielle DiPentima, Clarice Foster, Carolyn Messina, Anthony Nacinovich and Heather Schneckenberg. Thank you!
