AUGUST 18, 2019                                                PATRONAL FEAST OF SAINT HELENA

This is true of a parish family too. A strong commitment to one another and to the family as a whole. Family members do not always agree with one another all the time, but they feel members of the family with love and acceptance. Family members in the same beliefs, values and traditions. They embrace new a common heritage, and history. Families are often grounded herself as part of the parish family. A family has shared memories, parish better...WOW!

Remember, no parish is perfect. Just imagine if each one us ~ the staff, and your fellow parishioners in your daily prayers. Saying the Rosary, spending time in adoration in our Chapel, fasting, offering up any suffering, annoyance or inconvenience for your parish to help meet them. Invite others~ family members, friends, neighbors, co-workers~ to meet your parish family at Sunday Mass, a parish event, et cetera. Even if someone isn’t “open” or ready to come to Mass, he or she might enjoy coming to a parish event, meeting new people, and having fun. Many a “door” has opened after such an invitation.

Everything we have and everything we are is a gift from God. We need to recognize that. When we do, we see that giving to the parish financially and generously is an essential part of our Catholic spirituality. You know how expensive it is to run your parish financially and generously is an essential part of our Catholic spirituality. You know how expensive it is to run your parish...

We should be welcoming. When you come to Mass, think of it as large family reunion. Some people we know very well, some we know slightly and some we do no know at all. Like at a family reunion, introduce yourself to people whom you do not know. The parish is part of your family! Non-verbal communication is also very powerful. A nod of the head and a smile goes a long way. The saintly Mother Teresa of Calcutta once said: “Every time you smile at someone, it is an action of love, a gift to that person, a beautiful thing.”

God has given us all gifts and talents that are unique. God intends them to be shared; so use them for your parish. Get involved in a ministry, a committee or an organization. Any expertise—business, finance, computers, public relations, photography, engineering, carpentry, building maintenance, or skills such as cooking, baking, cleaning or gardening—can find a place in the parish. You might even have an idea for a new ministry, support group, organization or event. Your energy and enthusiasm can build up your parish family.

The Mass is the “heart” and the central focus of the parish, but parish ministries, activities and even social events increase spiritually and foster a sense of community. Take advantage of all of the opportunities your parish family has to meet new people and feel more connected. Invite others~ family members, friends, neighbors, co-workers~ to meet your parish family at Sunday Mass, a parish event, et cetera. Nic Notes

Dear Parishioners,

HAPPY FEAST DAY!

Last week, I wrote about what it means to take ownership in a true sense of one’s parish. I would like to share with you some thoughts, insights, and comments. One should always think of himself or herself as part of the parish family. A family has shared memories, a common heritage, and history. Families are often grounded in the same beliefs, values and traditions. They embrace new members of the family with love and acceptance. Family members do not always agree with one another all the time, but they feel a strong commitment to one another and to the family as a whole. This is true of a parish family too.

“UNLOCK THE MYSTERIES OF THE BIBLE”

Using an ingenious approach of displaying on a Timeline of people, places and events in the Bible the “big picture” is revealed. This is God’s loving plan for your life & how to put it into practice. Also revealed is how our Catholic Faith is rooted in Sacred Scripture. This study consists of four 90 minute sessions. An engaging hour of video presented by Jeff Cavins is then followed by a group discussion.

Morning study continues on Monday, August 19 from 10 to 11:30 AM; evening study continues on Thursday, August 22 from 7:30 to 9 PM.

Sessions are held in the remodeled convent.

To register call or email Paul Schaeffer with your name, phone and/or email and Morning or Evening preference.

KEN’S CACHE ~ WHO’S WHO IN THE BIBLE ~

We read in chapter 25 of Genesis that Isaac and Rebekah’s firstborn son, Esau was given his name because his body was covered with reddish hair when he was born. A moment later, his twin, Jacob, emerged, holding onto his heel. Even in their mother’s womb, the two had struggled, and their struggle continued for the rest of their lives.

Esau became a hunter; Jacob became a herdsman. Returning one day from a hunt, Esau encountered his brother cooking lentil soup, and asked him for some. He was told he could have it only if he swore to sell his birthright to Jacob, handing over whatever might accrue to him as Isaac’s firstborn. Famished and exhausted, Esau agreed to the sale with the words, “I am about to die, of what use is a birthright to me?” The effects of his oath became apparent only later.

Aged, dying, and nearly blind, Isaac asked Esau, the hunter, to bring him some meat to eat, then he would give Esau his blessing. Rebekah, who favored Jacob over Esau, heard this and arranged for Jacob to receive the blessing instead. Dressed in fleece to appear hairy like Esau, Jacob brought a dinner of meat to his father, Isaac. The deception worked: Jacob received the blessing intended for his brother; and once the blessing was given, it could not be recalled. The incident echoed practices in Rebekah’s native Mesopotamia, where inheritances sometimes bypassed the firstborn son, and fulfilled the prophecy made to her during her troubled pregnancy, namely that: “The elder shall serve the younger.”

Years later, when Jacob became rich and returned home with his wife, children, and flocks, he feared Esau’s revenge and sent gifts to assuage him. However, Esau had no need of Jacob’s wealth and so he forgave his younger brother.

Esau’s descendants, listed in chapter 36 of Genesis, were called Edomites, who lived just south of Canaan. The prophets used Esau’s name to symbolize Edom.

Esau’s name appears in the New Testament also. Paul cites Esau in chapter 9 of Romans as an example of those not elected by God, and the anonymous author of chapter 12 of Hebrews who enjoins his readers not to be “immoral or irreligious like Esau, who sold his birthright for a single meal.”

God Bless You!
Deacon Ken

CENTENNIAL CONCERT WITH “PAGEANT OF SAINTS”
ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON, SEPTEMBER 29, 2019 AT 4:00

Our parish will be performing a CENTENNIAL CONCERT on September 29. We will be including “A Pageant of Saints” in the program. Back on October 5, 1930, to commemorate the Shrine of Saint Theresa of the Little Flower over 40,000 people came to worship and some dressed up as saints in elaborate costumes and presented a performance based upon the saints’ lives. That statue of the Little Flower now graces our daily Mass Chapel.

We would like to celebrate that great expression of faith by having a Pageant of Saints.

All children of our parish are encouraged to participate. They may select a saint of their choosing and dress up as that Saint for this special event. This is an occasion to celebrate the lives of the saints and what they have meant to our faith, our parish, and our families. Please let us know if you will be able to attend the event as well as the saint your child has chosen to honor via e-mail at 100YEARS@SAINTHELENACHURCH.ORG.

SAINT HELENA’S CHOIR is looking for singers for their 100th Anniversary Celebration Concert on Sunday, September 29, 2019 at 4 PM. Concert rehearsals will be held in Church on Sunday, September 8 from 7 to 9 PM—please note the time change!

Rehearsals resume as scheduled on Sundays, September 16 and 22 from 2 to 4 PM. There will be a dress rehearsal on Friday, September 27 at 6 PM. If interested, please call Jim Siewert at 610-277-6265 or at jesiewert@comcast.net.
